Schedule

9:30-10:00 | Check in and light refreshments

10:00-10:15 | Welcome remarks by Dr. Jonathan C. Gold, Director of the Center for Culture, Society and Religion

10:15-11:15 | "Yes, You CAN Talk about Religion in Polite Company" by Dr. Jenny Wiley Legath, Associate Director of CCSR, and Dr. Lauren R. Kerby, Visiting Fellow at CCSR

11:15-11:30 | Break

11:30-12:30 | First Round of Concurrent Breakout Sessions
Participants should choose to attend one of the following concurrent session:
- Drinking Water, Sucharita Ray
- Indigenous Lands, Kim Akano
- Early American Religion and Identity, Jon Henry
- Race and the "Value Gap" in the US, David Gyllenhaal
- Cult Doesn't Mean What You Think It Means, William Stell

12:30-1:30 | Lunch break

1:30-2:30 | Second Round of Concurrent Breakout sessions
Participants should choose to attend one of the following concurrent session:
- How to Think about Drinking Water, Sucharita Ray
- Indigenous Lands, Kim Akano
- Christianity and Identity in the Early American Republic, Jon Henry
- Race and the "Value Gap" in the US, David Gyllenhaal
- "Cult" Doesn't Mean What You Think It Means, William Stell

2:30-2:45 | Break

2:45-4:00 | Closing remarks and discussion

4:25 | The “Dinky” departs the Princeton train station to return to Princeton Junction for any guests needing to catch a train